

In this time of American history, it is vital to the future of our children that they have a positive, encouraging and safe influence. K-Love provides all of this and more. As a parent of a teenage son, it is a comfort to me to know that I do not need to worry that he will be exposed to something negative while listening to K-Love. In our society today there are too many negative and immoral influences available to our children. All they have to do is turn on the television or radio. The decision to allow LPFM stations which could possibly force stations like K-Love off the air would be a gross error in judgement. We desperately need a safe direction and that cannot be provided if K-Love is no longer available.
